

ANNE S. DRENNAN
Alum of the Year
2007-2008

Anne S. Drennan holds a Bachelor of Science degree, with high honors, from DePaul University's School of Accountancy. She received her M.B.A. from the University of Chicago in 1986.

Drennan's business career spanned twenty five years of management and executive positions in the financial services industry, most recently as the retired Senior Vice President, Treasurer and Risk Oversight Chair of Alliance Capital Management Corporation, New York, NY. Her prior appointments include: McDonald's Corporation, Merrill Lynch & Co., First Chicago Trading Consultants, and the Chicago Board Options Exchange.

Since 1998, Drennan has been extensively involved with DePaul's College of Commerce and the Department of Finance. She served as President of the DePaul Finance Advisory Board from 1998 through 2007. A member of the DePaul Board of Trustees 2000-2006, she is the current alumni representative to the DePaul Board of Trustees and Past President of the DePaul Alumni Board.

Drennan is also a member of the Board of Pensions of the Presbyterian Church (USA), and the Project Manager for The First Presbyterian Church of Rumson Sanctuary Restoration. She is active in the Financial Women's Association of New York, serving on the Microfinance Committee as recording secretary.

Drennan and her husband, Gary Kohler, support the Finance Advisory Board Scholarship fund and the Coleman Entrepreneurship Center. They endowed the Kohler-Hanks Basketball Scholarship in the Department of Athletics at DePaul University in 2008. They enjoy foreign travel, and are avid fans of the Blue Demon basketball teams.
